Looking Into the Future: How to Develop a Medical Education Podcast

April 21, 2020 | 5:30 - 7:00 PM | RM 275

Agenda:

5:00–5:30 PM Registration and Refreshments
5:30–7:00 PM Workshop

Fei Cai, MD

House Staff Officer in Obstetrics and Gynecology
Warren Alpert Medical School of Brown University

Program Description:

The goal of this workshop is to orient participants on podcasting and editing equipment. Participants will have the opportunity to design, record and edit a brief podcast on a topic of their choice. The best means by which to disseminate their podcasts will be discussed. Please note: this session requires participants to bring a laptop computer with "Audacity" (for Windows) or "Garageband" (for Macs) installed.

This session will demonstrate the application of learning principles and will focus on the Core area of Using Technology in Teaching.

Learning Objectives:

1. Describe the myriad of uses of podcasting within medical education
2. Record a short podcast
3. Edit a podcast

Credit Designation

Physicians: The Warren Alpert Medical School of Brown University designates this live activity for a maximum of 1.5 AMA PRA Category 1 Credits™. Physicians should only claim credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity.

Psychologists: The Warren Alpert Medical School of Brown University is approved by the RI Psychological Association to offer continuing education for psychologists. The Alpert Medical School maintains responsibility for the program. This activity is approved for 1.5 Category 1 CE Credits. Credits available to RI licensed psychologists only.

The Program in Educational Faculty Development at Alpert Medical School recognizes and supports our faculty and residents in their role as educators. We strive to provide participants with the knowledge and skills to teach in the classroom and at the bedside. All faculty and residents are welcome to attend these sessions, to be held at the Warren Alpert Medical School, located at 222 Richmond Street, Providence, RI.

*Core Series in Medical Education

The "Core Series" consists of 8 presentations on common topics within medical education. Designed specifically for medical educators, sessions are open to all faculty, residents and community preceptors. The Core Series includes annual sessions on the following topics:

- * Presentation and lecturing skills
- * Small group facilitation
- * Teaching the challenging learner
- * Clinical teaching
- * Using technology in teaching
- * Evaluation and effective feedback
- * Mentoring and advising
- * Inclusive Teaching

Individuals attending 5 Core Series sessions within a three-year time frame will receive a Certificate of Participation, which can be included as "additional education/training" as part of faculty promotions materials.
