

HOW TO THINK & ACT LIKE A DERMATOLOGIST: DIAGNOSTIC AND TREATMENT STRATEGIES FOR PRIMARY CARE PROFESSIONALS

September 29, 2021

A Virtual Event | 5:00–8:00 PM

PROGRAM DESCRIPTION

Up to two thirds of patients with a primary skin complaint present to primary care doctors. Despite this, primary care doctors receive little training in this area. A recent review suggested “that even minimal increase dermatology training at the medical school level or beyond may have a measurable impact on primary physicians’ abilities in dermatology.”

Through case-based discussions, expert faculty will cover a variety of adult and pediatric dermatology related issues commonly encountered in the primary care setting. The aim of this course is to increase primary health care professionals’ skill and confidence with the diagnosis and treatment of the most common skin disorders.

TARGET AUDIENCE

Physicians, physician assistants, nurse practitioners, nurses, residents, fellows and medical students

CME Accreditation

The Warren Alpert Medical School of Brown University is accredited by the ACCME to provide continuing medical education for physicians.

MOC Points

Successful completion of this CME activity, which includes participation in the evaluation component, enables the participant to earn up to 2.75 medical knowledge MOC points in the American Board of Internal Medicine’s (ABIM) Maintenance of Certification (MOC) program. Participants will earn MOC points equivalent to the amount of CME credit claimed for the activity. It is the CME activity provider’s responsibility to submit participant completion information to ACCME for the purpose of granting ABIM MOC credit.

LEARNING OBJECTIVES

At the conclusion of this activity participants should be able to:

- Diagnose a variety of adult and pediatric cutaneous infections and infestations and recognize common mimickers
- Diagnose and treat adult, infantile, and childhood atopic dermatitis
- Recognize warning signs of a severe cutaneous adverse drug reaction, signs of severe vasculitis and vasculopathy, and signs of severe autoimmune blistering disorders
- Describe the advantages and disadvantages of the various modes of dermatologic drug delivery
- Provide examples of drug therapy for specific, common dermatologic conditions
